

Hello I am Aom from class 4C2. It is indeed an honor to be standing here, at this moment, to deliver my speech in front of all of you.

First of all, congratulations for making it this far. Struggling through these hectic four years is certainly not easy, but guess what? You have made it. Congratulations!

It was actually difficult to come up with this speech because everyone of us here has gone through different experiences despite being in the same school and I would not be able to capture all of the memorable stories that all of us have within these few minutes.

Since it is our Graduation Ceremony, and we are leaving this school in a few months' time, let's me talk about something that we have in common since day one, besides coming to the same school, of course. It is our level motto. As all of us would know, our level motto is "Developing Self, Building Community" and that is what I want to talk about today.

Let's start with the phrase "Developing Self". I am grateful that Peicai not only offers us academic improvements, but also in terms of characters. I believe that all of us have grown up in one way or another as compared to when we first stepped into Peicai. Let's take this time to think back and reflect who you were back then and who you are right now. I believe you will now realize that there are many significant improvements on your characters and attitude and I am certain that you yourself on the first day in Peicai would not even be able to imagine how far you have come. Although these changes are not measureable, they are observable. I am sure that you have seen you friends grown up into better individuals. I too have seen many of my friends grown up and become decent you adults. This makes me feel assured to a certain extent that we are now ready to step out of this comfort zone and venture into the reality with a better version of us, thanks to the people around us that help us to build this confidence and guide us through to come this far. I am suire that no matter where we go, we will hold the guidance and lessons that were given to us close to our hearts. Hence, I am thankful for the relationship that we have made in this cohort. Because of this relationship, community is formed and this ties in with the second part of the level motto, "Building Community".

For the past four years, this school has gradually transformed into our second home. Sentimental attachments with the school evolve over time with many stories and memories made throughout our secondary school journey, be it good or bad.

Good memories will be the evidences of how fortunate we are to be in this school. This is because without coming to this school, we would not be able to have these bosom friends whom we can trust and rely on. Also, we would not be able to meet our extremely passionate and caring teachers and staffs who sometimes are more concerned about our well-beings even more than ourselves.

However, nothing is perfect. At times, unpleasant and painful memories were made, sometimes to the extent that we were not able to cope by ourselves. That is when one of the things that we have in common or relate to comes into play, rapport. In my opinion, the word rapport is the best word to describe our relationship as a cohort. Rapport is defined as a close and harmonious relationship in which the people or groups concerned understand each other's feelings or ideas and communicate well and this is what all of us have in common. This includes friends, seniors, juniors and teachers. How would we pull through those tough times without these people? When I was crafting this speech, I came across one song called this is why I need you from Jesse Ruben and the chorus of this song goes like this:

Cause you make the darkness less dark You make the edges less sharp You make the winter feel warmer

You make my weakness less weak You make the bottom less deep You make the waiting feel shorter You make my crazy feel normal, every time You are the who, love is the what and this is the why.

I feel this song is closely related to us because, together, we make each other's tough times less painful and more bearable. Also, no matter what path we choose in the future we know at the bottom of our heart that we will have our friends and teachers who will be there for us to seek support and rely on. This is why the rapports that our cohort has are precious and irreplaceable.

To end of my speech, I would like to thank everyone on behalf of my cohort who makes our secondary school journey an amazing one. This includes friends who make crazy memories together in this school, teachers who do give up on us even when we feel like giving up on ourselves and staffs who always willing to lend us a helping hand. Despite all of us come from different backgrounds, we are now part of Peicai Family. Who would have thought that we can be so sentimentally attached to this school where friendships are forged and memories are made. Although our journey in Peicai will end soon, it is certainly not the end of our relationship as a cohort. Like what I have said earlier, we are part of this Peicai Family and as cliché as it sounds, once Peicaians, always Peicaians.

With that thank you so much, I wish you all the best in your future endeavor and let's make this relationship last as long as it could.
